Each month of the 2021/22 school year, your favorite King's faculty will be invited to participate in an exclusive rapid-fire interview where they get to share a little bit about themselves and their favorite popular media. Continue reading this edition to learn more about:

Dr. Heather Looy

1. "Tell me a little bit about what you do at King's?"

"I mostly just run around like a chicken with my head cut off. I juggle so many things, I can't name them all. This means I never get bored."

2. "What kinds of things are you involved in outside of your job?"

"I play squash, I have a vegetable garden, and I like to ride my bike, and cross-country ski in the winter. To relax, I like reading fiction and taking baths."

3. "What are your top two favorite books?"

"I know I should say the Bible, but I won't. I like fiction, so my first pick will be The Curse of Chalion by Lois McMaster Bujold. In general, good books are ones that I keep coming back to, so with that in mind, I'll have to say The Lord of the Rings."

4. "What are your top two favorite movies?"

"Let me see... Gandhi! And my favorite feel-good movie that I always go to comfort-food-style is Mamma Mia."

5. "What are your top two favorite music albums?"

"I don't really listen much to music albums, I mostly cherry-pick. In terms of genre, I like traditional ones, like folk. If I had to pick two random artists that I like, I would say Spirit of the West and Leonard Cohen."

6. "Is there anything else you wanted to say about yourself to everyone reading?"

"My family will tell you that there are things that I am guaranteed to say under certain scenarios, and they can predict when I will say them with surprising accuracy. Such as: "The only way out is through." Also, whenever someone sees an animal, they always give it a male pronoun, to which I respond: How do you know it's a he? So that's probably annoying."

"Great answers, thanks for your time, Dr. Looy."
