

Music I Would Play if I Worked at the Level

Jonah Edmundson

No offense to the baristas, of course, but the music that they play in the Level these days is BORING!! Like seriously! Give the “Essential Cozy Coffeehouse Lounge Chill Vibes Relaxing Indie Ambiance” playlist a break!! Every time I walk into the Level, regardless of the time of day, I can guarantee that I will hear Beach House and Bon Iver within the first 5 minutes. The songs they play are way too relaxing and have weak aura, and can easily lull you to sleep. As we approach finals season, I propose that we start playing music that is more conducive to a productive studying environment. Anything loud, fast-paced, and energetic will do. Here are some specific suggestions:

1. SKRILLEX – Bangarang
2. Slipknot – Psychosocial
3. Crazy Frog – Popcorn
4. Scatman John – Scatman
5. Smash Mouth - All Star
6. Ylvis - What Does the Fox Say?
7. DigiNeko - Coffin Dance
8. Darude – Sandstorm

To summarize, this is a desperate call to all Level baristas: play more loud music! I promise it will help us study with a positive attitude.

Sincerely,

The King’s Student Body
